16555 Chatsworth Street, Granada Hills, CA. 91344

MISSION STATEMENT

We, the Parish Community of Saint John Baptist de la Salle recognize that we are chosen by Christ and have as our mission to bring forth the fruits of the True Vine in response to the needs of our Parish Community through the recognition of active Parish Organizations and the cultivation of persons and groups not yet sharing in the mystery of the True Vine, Jesus Christ.
"I am the vine, you are the branches. Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit, because without me you can do nothing."

Welcome Mrs. Larissa McKenna
We are excited and pleased to announce Mrs. Larissa McKenna as the new principal at St. John Baptist de la Salle School. Mrs. McKenna came highly recommended by Miss Castaneda who appointed Mrs. McKenna as Vice Principal for the 2016-2017 school year.

Mrs. McKenna graduated from California State University, Northridge with her Bachelor's Degree and Teaching Credential. She began her teaching career at De La Salle as a middle school teacher for two years. She then accepted an opportunity to teach Transitional Kindergarten where she developed her skills to become an experienced primary educator. During this time, Mrs. McKenna completed her Master's Degree from Mount Saint Mary's University. She displayed her ability to accomplish multiple tasks at various levels of difficulty. Through her education and classroom teaching experience, as well as her role as Vice Principal, Mrs. McKenna continued to develop her leadership skills.

We are confident that Mrs. McKenna will serve our school to the best of her ability. She has accepted the position with great humility and pride. She will begin her position on July 1st. Thank you for your support and we look forward to the 2017-2018 school year.

Showing Christ to others

Adult: When have you felt more fully alive by giving of yourself to another?

Child: When have you been able to put what someone else needs ahead of what you want for yourself?

Three marriages, one spouse . . .

We've heard all the reasons: He's not the man I married . . . She didn't change, but I did . . . We grew apart

Why do most relationships end? Change - specifically, how to accept change in another.

At some point in any long-term relationship, each partner is likely to evolve from the person we fell in love with into something new - and not always into something cuter or smarter or more fun. The same for our children. Spouses go from rock climber to couch potato, from rebel to middle manager, from incurable romantic to sleep obsessed. Sons and daughters, overnight it seems, devolve from their angelic First Communion photos into sullen, self-absorbed teenagers - who just as quickly blossom into responsible young adults.

Writer Ada Calhoun, in her forthcoming memoir Wedding Toasts I'll Never Give, writes:

A year and a half ago, Neal and I bought a place in the country. We hadn't been in the market for a house, but our city apartment is only 500 square feet, and we kept admiring this lovely blue house we drove by every time we visited my parents. It turned out to be shockingly affordable. So now we own a house. We bought furniture, framed pictures and put up a badminton net. We marveled at the change that had come over us. Who were these backyard-grilling, property-tax-paying, shuttlecock-batting people we had become?

When we met in our 20s, Neal wasn't a man who would delight in lawn care, and I wasn't a woman who would find such a man appealing. And yet here we were, avidly refilling our bird feeder and remarking on all the cardinals.

Neal, who hadn't hammered a nail in all the years I'd known him, now had opinions on bookshelves and curtains, and loved going to the hardware store. He whistled while he mowed. He was like an alien. But in this new situation, I was an alien, too - one who knew when to plant bulbs and how to use a Crock-Pot, and who, newly armed with CPR and first aid certification, volunteered at a local camp. Our alien selves were remarkably compatible . . .

Several long-married people I know have said this exact line: I've had at least three marriages. They've just all been with the same person. I'd say Neal and I have had at least three marriages: our partying 20s, child-centric 30s and home-owning 40s.

Our lives change over the years - the challenge is to continue to grow, to continue to love, to continue to be there for one another as we change. As Jesus says in today's Gospel, we find our true selves in the lives we "lose," we discover our true selves in the persons we become over time. In God's wisdom and grace, we can transform such change from a "cross" into an experience of resurrection in which we discover the love of God in our midst and become the means for revealing that love to those we love and who love us.

Summer safety and abuse prevention

As you begin to make summer plans for activities – whether in your own backyard, the local park, summer camps or other overnight or out-of-town settings – keep child safety in mind. The best practice rules for child safety is to have as much information about the place, program and its coordinators as possible and replace blind trust with knowledge and healthy suspicion. Just to say: THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU VERY MUCH for accepting me as a priest at St John Baptist De La Salle. My one year here seems to be more than a year, because of who you are to me, and who I am to you. It is true to say that our priestly vocation is not easy, but for me, even though hard, I do feel and felt your helping hands and prayers, which make our work easy.

Thank you very much for your smile, the gifts, the invitations to different restaurants or buffets, your friendship, and everything. I assure all of you my continued prayers and masses.

Special Thanks to Father Ramon, Monsignor Milbauer, and Father Teneti for what you did for me and accepting me as another brother priest.

Continue to pray for one another and especially my new assignment. I am moving to Incarnation Parish, in Glendale. Thank You, Thank You very much.

God Bless
